BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

$2000 IN PRIZES TO BE GIVEN
TO ENERGETIC PEOPLE IN GLENDALE

The Glendale Evening News' great automobile and prize contest is wholly, solely and simply a business proposition in every sense of the word. On the part of The News, this interesting subscription campaign was inaugurated for the purpose to increase its already large circulation, thereby assisting The News to become a greater power of publicity for the local merchants and a greater means for the advancement of the community.

The opportunity for the public to gain the valuable prizes offered and the ease with which they can be obtained, has attracted the attention of every ambitious and energetic person in Glendale, Tropic, Casa Verdugo and vicinity.

The prizes are worth the thorough investigation of the busiest person in the San Fernando valley and every person, man or woman, young or old, has an equal chance of entering and winning a desirable prize in this interesting campaign of ballots.

The Way to Start

Enter the contest; fill out the nomination blank, which will be found in the contest ad on another page. Fill the blank in with your name and address, if you wish to nominate yourself, or with the name of anyone else you choose to nominate.

The Second Thing to Do

Send or bring the nomination blank to the Glendale Evening News. It will secure 5000 votes toward winning one of the prizes and entitle you to a subscription book for obtaining subscriptions to the Evening News.

The Third Thing to Do

As soon as you are nominated, see your friends, get them to subscribe for the Evening News and give you their votes. Send or bring all subscriptions to the contest department in The News office, together with the proper remittance, and, upon receipt of same votes will be issued. As soon as you have obtained one subscription, go after another. The more votes you get, the bigger the prize.

Think of the wonderful profit that would be yours if you were to win the $550.00 Maxwell touring car, the $400.00 Schiller piano, the scholarships to the Isaacs-Woodbury Business college, the $50.00 deposit at the First National Bank of Glendale, a trip to either of the expositions, or any one of the other prizes to be announced later. And remember, if you do not win one of the many prizes offered, you get ten per cent of every dollar you turn in to the contest. You can't lose.

SANITARIUM WEDDING

On Wednesday evening, June 8, in the dining-room at the Glendale sanitarium there occurred a very important event, when Miss Wilmeda A. Simons, a graduate nurse at the sanitarium, and Mr. Claude E. Stein, who is taking a medical course at Loma Linda, were united in the holy bonds of marriage. All of the sanitarium people, as well as guests from Long Beach, Pasadena and Loma Linda, witnessed the pretty ceremony, which was impressively performed by Elder E. E. Andross, president of the Pacific Union Conference of Seventh Day Adventists and an uncle of the groom. The bride's sister and the groom's brother were the attendants. There was special and beautiful music for the occasion, Miss Gransfield playing the wedding march and Miss Susine Wessels contributed several violin solos with Mrs. John R. Barrows as her accompanist.

Flowers from the sanitarium grounds and also from the garden of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Woodberry, the latter including a beautiful night-blooming cereus, were a feature of this wedding.

Following the ceremony, a wedding repast was served. Many useful gifts were presented to the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Stein will reside at Loma Linda, where the groom will continue his studies. Heartfelt good wishes from the sanitarium people, as well as many other Glendale friends, follow the bride to her new home.

MARRIED AT HIGH NOON

Merle Scott McNutt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Porter S. McNutt of Sycamore canyon, and Miss Annabel Clarke of Burbank, were united in marriage at high noon Thursday. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. E. H. Willisford, pastor of the First Congregational church. The newly married couple left for San Diego, where they will visit for a few days, after which they will reside in Burbank, where Mr. McNutt is in business.

BANQUET OF O. E. S.

GLEN EYRIE CHAPTER, NO. 237,
ENTERTAINS GRAND OFFICERS

It was a fair and gracious assembly that greeted the eyes of Deputy Grand Matron Miss Cora Hickman on the occasion of her official visit to Glen Eyrie chapter, No. 237, Order of the Eastern Star. About seventy members of the chapter were present to do honor to the occasion.

In honor of the official visit the ladies of the order arranged to give a banquet, with Miss Hickman as guest of honor, along with other guests of honor, her sister, Mrs. Imbler, past matron of Glen Eyrie chapter; Miss Marjorie Imbler, Eugene Imbler and Mr. J. B. Hickman. Members of the chapter were permitted to bring their Masonic husbands and friends with them.

By the untiring labors of the committee, which consisted of Mrs. Daniel Campbell, chairman; Mrs. Margaret Williamson and Mr. T. D. Ogg, the large hall in the Masonic temple was beautifully decorated and adorned for the official visit. In the center of the hall a table was arranged in the form of a triangle, symbolical to members of the order. In the center of this triangle were tastefully arranged a large number of beautiful ferns, dracaenas and other plants and flowers, supplied for the occasion by Kelly & McElroy. Among these was a curious Australian tree fern. This bed of floral beauty lent sweetness and fragrance to the interesting spectacle.

After the banquet Miss Hickman responded to the toast, "Glen Eyrie Chapter." She said that as district deputy grand matron she felt much pride in visiting the chapter of which she herself was one of the charter members. She had seen the chapter grow and increase in every good quality such an organization should possess. She rejoiced at the efficiency that characterized the chapter, which they had all seen exemplified in the manner in which the work was done from time to time; above all she rejoiced in the spirit of harmony that always pervaded the gatherings of the chapter. She foresaw a great future for Glen Eyrie chapter.

Mrs. Hunchberger responded to the toast, "Our Grand Officers." In making this response she referred to the profound interest taken in the affairs of the chapter by Past District Deputy Grand Matron Mrs. Daniel Campbell and District Deputy Grand Matron Miss Hickman. It was fortunate for Glen Eyrie chapter that both these officers of the grand chapter were members of the local chapter. It kept the chapter up to date and always led it to strive for that excellence in all things which is the very best spirit of the order.

Mrs. Ryan responded to "The Officers and Members," saying that every official and member of Glen Eyrie chapter felt that the chapter occupied a unique position in the order in Southern California, on account of its close connection with the grand chapter through having two of its members officials in that chapter. She praised the enthusiasm of the local members and commended their loyalty to their chapter and to the order.

On behalf of the chapter, Worthy Matron Fredonia Borthick presented District Deputy Grand Matron Miss Hickman with a very handsome pearl necklace, saying the gift represented the love and esteem in which every member of the chapter held the district deputy grand matron. There are seventy pearls in the necklace, all of "purest ray serene." "Each pearl," said Miss Borthick, "contains a good wish." She referred to the love and high esteem in which the chapter held Miss Hickman and concluded with a warm expression of the universal affection with which she is regarded.

District Deputy Grand Matron Miss Hickman responding, said that it was impossible for her to express all she felt with regard to the esteem and affection manifested toward her by the members of the chapter. She had experienced nothing but extreme kindness from them on all occasions. Her long connection with the chapter had enabled her to know individually and personally every member and from each and everyone of them she had always received hearty support in her efforts to advance the interests of the chapter and of the order. "Each pearl," said Miss Hickman, "in this beautiful necklace will be to me ever a memory of each time I have received honor and kindness at your hands and each pearl will also be a souvenir of each member. I will ever preserve them in memory of Glen Eyrie chapter."

In the course of the banquet Miss Della Marie Echols, marshal of the chapter, also presented Miss Hickman with a personal gift, a handsome cut glass mayonnaise bowl and

GOES TO ALASKA

MISS WAITE, LOCAL TEACHER, TO SPEND SUMMER IN THE NORTH

Miss Ida Waite, principal of the Colorado boulevard school, left on Thursday via the Owl for San Francisco, where she will meet her sister and brother-in-law from Chicago and spend about three weeks enjoying the exposition and other points of interest in San Francisco. Later she will leave for Alaska, where she will spend the summer exploring the many interesting places of that most interesting country.

Returning to Seattle, she will proceed to Cashmere, Wash., where she will visit another sister before returning to Glendale in time for the opening of school this fall.

Miss Waite spent her vacation last summer in the Orient, returning about the time the war broke out, and has delighted her friends many times the past year by relating her experiences in the far eastern countries she visited, as well as her return journey, when the ship on which she sailed came within the zone of a foreign war vessel.

Miss Waite is looking forward to a very happy and interesting vacation.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION

PACIFIC UNION COLLEGE, St. Helena, June 9 (Special).—That Seventh Day Adventists were the pioneers in industrial education, at least in advocating it, was the statement of Prof. C. C. Lewis of Washington, D. C., in a paper read Tuesday before the National Educational and Young People's Missionary Volunteer council now in session here. Prof. Lewis is secretary of the International Fireside Correspondence school conducted by the Adventists, and a well-known educator in the denomination. He gave due credit in his paper to the work of Dr. John D. Runkle of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Charles H. Ham.

"But six years before Mr. Ham read his famous paper, the Almighty himself had spoken with the utmost clearness to this denomination concerning these principles," said the speaker. "The Adventists published thirty pages upon the subject in 1875. One statement in this publication was: 'Provision should have been made in past generations for education on a larger scale. In connection with the schools should have been agricultural and manufacturing establishments. There should also have been teachers of household labor. And a portion of the time each day should have been devoted to labor, that the physical and mental powers might be equally exercised. There should have been experienced teachers to give lessons to young ladies in the cooking department. Young girls should have been instructed to manufacture wearing apparel, to cut, make and mend garments, and thus become educated for practical duties of life.'"

Prof. Lewis urged that the world conference of the Adventists begin at once the preparation of a course of manual and industrial training for all Adventist schools from the primary grades to the colleges, in advance of anything yet attempted, this course not to consist simply of a bare outline, but giving detailed instruction in the best methods of carrying out the plans. Eliminate all fads and fancy work, he urged. Keep in mind the fundamental occupations necessary to make good homes.

"The needs of the great army of missionaries who go to foreign lands should be provided for," the speaker continued, "and the need of that ever greater army that must stay at home and furnish the sinews of war must not be forgotten. The domestic arts should be emphasized so as to teach our young women the things that wives and mothers ought to know, whether in a home or in foreign field."

"The building trades should be encouraged, that our missionaries may know how to provide houses for their missionary operations. Above all, agricultural pursuits should be kept in the forefront, for it is not without reason that the spirit of the Lord has said that instruction in agricultural lines should be the A. B. C. of our educational work. Good farmers are not necessarily good teachers of farming. Neither are good teachers of farming necessarily good farmers. We need a happy combination of the two elements."

silver ladle. Miss Hickman asked the chapter to share with her the pleasure of seeing this present, which was much admired by all.

After the banquet the chapter demonstrated the work of the order, which was done with an accuracy and precision worthy of all commendation.

WHERE WOOD IS KING

GLENDALE MILL COMPANY IS DOING A THRIVING
BUSINESS

Among the leading enterprises that are daily adding to the wealth and comfort of Glendale is the Glendale Mill company, which is situated in the heart of the city, close to Glendale avenue and Broadway. Even in these somewhat slow business times the hum of the planers and the buzz of the saws has never ceased, though there may have been some diminution in the number of orders and the staff of the firm is not compelled to labor at break-neck speed.

The Glendale Mill company, which consists of C. U. Mandis and G. A. Ganahl, is a large and prosperous establishment, which is prepared to supply customers with clean, dry stock at a moment's notice in large or small quantities. Indeed, a brief visit to the establishment is sufficient to convince one that the demands made on the stock are of an extremely varied nature. At one time will come in an order for all the lumber for a large house, and again an individual will give an order for three feet of redwood. At one moment the firm may be selling a foot or two of moulding, and again may be figuring on the whole internal fittings of some public building. Whatever the order may be, it is executed at once with skill and politeness and can be supplied from a stock that is not surpassed by many.

In addition to Mr. Mandis and Mr. Ganahl, the firm employs at present four skilled workmen, who are kept constantly busy with all manner of orders. The varied nature of this work can be seen from the fact that the firm was called on to furnish the two large double oak desks that now grace the new section of the city hall where the public service department has its home, while it also supplied the Glendale postoffice with a large oak desk, fitted up with ninety pigeonholes. It is certain that work of this kind can be done much more cheaply here than in outside places and, as can be seen, in first-class manner.

The firm's four employees—Joe Leberthal, Ben Scott, Vincent Ganahl and Walter Gurney—are busy every moment of the day, making such particular work as fine glass cabinets and bookcases, or turning out the fine Tennessee red cedar chests, of which the firm makes a specialty; and again designing and putting together a number of trunks, such as those which were recently sent from the mill to the gardens of Mr. Breckenridge, general manager of the Southern California Edison company. Screens, doors, windows, railings, pillars, pilasters and all manner of woodwork for the interiors or exteriors of buildings can be obtained here on very short notice and in excellent style and condition.

Walking through the mill one sees how much can be accomplished by modern machinery. Here in one end of the large building is a modern lathe on which are turned all manner of spindles and other turned work. Close by is a shaper, a wonderful machine that can create any kind of bent or spiral work. Anything that is crooked can be formed by this machine, which spins out such work as stair-rails in the most marvelous fashion.

Here is a band rip-saw, which does resawing and ripping at an extremely fast rate, turning out from sixty to seventy feet in a minute. A wonderful cabinet saw is a machine that combines boring, rip-sawing, cut-off sawing and morticing. In the center of the shop stands the surfacing machine, which makes smooth surfaces on the sides of any piece of lumber in record time.

At another point is an ingenious "sander," as it is called, which sands papers lumber for varnishing. This machine has three sections—one for coarse work, one for fine, and one for putting the final polish on the surface. There are also twelve and eight inch stickers or moulders.

Outside in the lumber yard is a very large and varied assortment of Oregon pine, redwood, oak, sugar-pine, yellow-pine, cedars of all kinds, maple, birch and almost any kind of wood you want. This wood has been carefully selected and seasoned under favorable conditions. Mr. Mandis himself gives special attention to the orders of customers, which are thus certain of that personal supervision that means so much to a purchaser.

Among the work turned out by this enterprising firm is the interior wood work in the Glendale library, which is partly white cedar and partly quarter-sawn oak; the center counter in the Eagle Rock library and all the interior woodwork there, which is vertical grain Oregon pine, and the interior woodwork in the Masonic temple, which is Oregon pine.

In addition to these interiors, the

FLOWER FOLK TO MEET

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY WILL GATHER AT HIGH SCHOOL
NEXT SATURDAY

Very great interest is being taken in the proceedings of the Horticultural society, which was temporarily organized a few days ago. Since that first meeting many have expressed their desire to attend the society, but have found it impossible to do so on account of the meetings being held in the evening.

For this reason it has been determined that the meetings shall be held in the afternoons. The next meeting will be held in the Glendale Union high school auditorium at 2 p. m. Saturday, June 19. At that meeting the temporary organization will be changed into a permanent one.

Among those who are expected to be present on that occasion are Principal Moyses of the high school, who is himself not only a lover of flowers, but also a botanist of some experience and knowledge. Prof. Taylor of the high school, who is also an expert botanist and a lover of flowers, will be present and will give the society the benefit of his knowledge. Mrs. Taylor, principal of the Columbus avenue school, is also expected to be among the active members of the society.

Prof. Houdyshe of the high school staff, who is an accomplished botanist and a specialist in the subject of cross-fertilization, is likely to take part. The chief work will be the organization of the society on a permanent basis and the appointment of committees.

MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION

The Glendale Merchants' association held a special meeting in the firehouse Thursday evening for the purpose of electing a secretary and considering objectionable points in the merchants' license ordinance.

The meeting was called to order by A. T. Cowan, president of the association. On account of the absence of the acting secretary, J. N. McGillis, at the opening of the meeting, L. W. Bosserman was chosen secretary pro tem. By request, Mr. Bosserman read the amendment to the merchants' ordinance, which is now before the board of trustees for adoption. After considerable discussion relative to the amendments of the ordinance, a motion prevailed that a committee of five persons be appointed to communicate with the city trustees, asking them to postpone the adoption of the amendment ordinance for two weeks that the members of the merchants' association might give points in the original ordinance more consideration. The names of the committeemen appointed are: O. L. Kilborn, H. P. Coker, J. N. McGillis, C. W. Ingledue and C. E. McPeck.

J. N. McGillis, the acting secretary, having arrived, the minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved. Also a communication was read from W. H. Crane, former secretary.

H. P. Coker, chairman of the committee which had been appointed at the previous meeting to interview the several candidates for the office of secretary, reported six candidates as being aspirants for the office. On motion a ballot was taken, R. M. Jackson proving to be the successful candidate. Mr. Jackson is now secretary of the Glendale Merchants' association.

Several stirring addresses were delivered by members present urging the importance of keeping up a live association. J. Herbert Smith of the Tropico Mercantile company spoke very pointedly along these lines.

AUTHORITIES CONFUSED

The sheriff's office reported this morning the finding of a Premier automobile on the Washington boulevard between this city and Los Angeles. The license number on the machine was 1114488. This is why the sheriff's office and the police are puzzled. This license number was issued to O. A. Gebhardt of Venice for a Pathfinder car. How it happened to be on a Premier machine is what the authorities are anxious to ascertain. The Venice city directory does not contain the name of O. A. Gebhardt, nor can he be found listed in either telephone book. Detective Golding is looking for him in order to obtain an explanation as to why the license number issued to one machine was found on another machine.

Glendale Mill company also supplied all the interior finishing in the First National Bank of Glendale and the red birch interior in the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Burbank.

In every respect this is one of the leading industries of Glendale and is likely one day to grow to much greater dimensions.

AN EXPLANATION

MRS. JONES SHOWS BY COMPARISON FESTIVAL PRICES WERE NOT HIGH

For the benefit of those who thought our prices were high, I would like to state my reason for publishing this letter.

Sierra Madre is a little town of 2000 people and they have given flower shows through the Woman's club for the last five years. The fact that so many contribute and give their services year after year proves that it must be a good thing for the town.

We found their prices to be fifteen and twenty-five cents for the flower show; ours were ten and twenty-five cents two days, and a special day at ten cents.

Their three evening performances were fifty cents. No reduction for children. Ours were thirty-five and fifty cents queen's night, twenty-five and thirty-five cents other nights, and everyone who dined in our famous cafeteria saved money.

Hoping this explanation and the Sierra Madre letter will meet with the approval of the general public and that the entire report of our fiesta and assistance received will also meet with their approval, when published in a day or two, I am

Sincerely,

MRS. MATTISON B. JONES,
Gen. Chairman of Fiesta.

My Dear Mrs. Jones:

I understand you wish a statement as to how the Sierra Madre flower show committee finances the show. As soon as the committee, consisting of three representatives from the Board of Trade, one from the city trustees and three from the Woman's club, is organized, subscriptions are solicited from the various organizations and citizens. This year we started with a guarantee fund of $719, obtained as follows:

City trustees, from adv. fund.....	$250
Board of Trade.....	50
Merchants Association.....	200
Individuals.....	219
	$719

Other years the merchants have subscribed individually; this year they preferred to do it through their association. For every $5 subscription received, the committee issued two season tickets, good for the flower exhibition and all evening performances. These are not given to the city trustees or Board of Trade, but to the merchants and individual subscribers.

The show lasts three days and evenings. Admission to the show during the day, twenty-five cents; children, fifteen cents. After 6 p. m. all admissions fifty cents, which included the evening entertainments. The first night a vaudeville show, the second a concert and the third a dance. Season tickets, admitting to everything, $1.50, non-transferable.

The cafeteria was managed by the women of the club; good home cooking, and the prices about the same as at any cafeteria—a little higher perhaps on some specialties because of the quality—but they seemed to give entire satisfaction.

There were some helpers' tickets issued, but most of those taking part buy season tickets or have them through subscriptions.

We are exceptionally fortunate in Sierra Madre, it seems to me, in the small number who expect free passes—everyone almost seems perfectly willing to help to the utmost and give all they can.

Whatever profit remains when the accounts are settled is turned over to the treasurer of the Woman's club, as the club really makes the show a possibility and the women do the major part of the work, and in this way they are paying off the debt on the clubhouse.

The cafeteria never shows a very large profit, but it is a very necessary and very attractive part of the show, and those who manage it feel that the profit coming through the other departments is partly due to the cafeteria. This year our

Gross receipts were.....$1853
Expenses.....947

Net.....$906

I hope this statement contains the information you wish. We are very proud of our show in Sierra Madre, for we are not such a very big city and we feel the success is mainly due to the fact that everyone is interested and works for the success of the enterprise. If I can give you any further data that will be of service to you, pray let me know.

Cordially yours,
JESSICA H. WRIGHT,
Chairman.

Every public library is a clearing-house for mental and moral uplift.

WORKING FOR PEACE

"Blessed are the peacemakers; for they shall be called the children of God." These were the epoch-making words of Christ in his famous Sermon on the Mount, a divine protest against the doctrines of men. How far the world has failed to measure up to the standard of Christ is written today in characters of blood and fire on the sorrow-stricken fields of Europe.

That Christ was right and that the world is wrong is a proposition that should hardly need enunciation in any community that professes to follow the teachings of the Divine Master. Can anyone deny that Christ's voice is still lifted up against those who have turned the fields of honest labor and humble happiness into a desert of woe and ruin?

Now, in diametrical opposition to the teachings of Christ, comes Dr. Scheler, the famous author of "The Genius of War and the German War," who asserts that war separates men outwardly, but unites them inwardly; that war awakens in man human powers of love and makes possible in a state the great ideals of human community, as opposed to the loose and external bonds which are the result of peace.

In Dr. Scheler's opinion the ideal of eternal peace has no regenerating power, no power of giving birth to spiritual forces. In this position the writer is very slightly removed from Bernhardi, who maintained that war was a biological necessity, or from Adolf Wagner, who said that Germany must conquer the world or perish. Dr. Scheler alleges that with the victory of Germany, all unchivalrous forms of competition between nation and nation must cease, and that then there will be a new heaven and a new earth.

That sounds rather strange to the neutral observer on this side of the Atlantic who, standing outside the mist of smoke and blood that obscures the European continent, is rather inclined to think that the only result of the struggle up to this point has been to create a new hell. American thinkers are unanimous in their thankfulness for George Washington's advice to the nation to keep out of entangling foreign alliances. It is fortunate for our beloved country that it is able to stand aside from all the heat of the war atmosphere, with its distortion of vision, and take a calm and Christian attitude toward all the belligerents.

The ideal of peace as taught by Christ has not been lost sight of here at least. It is the common feeling of the nation that the United States must keep out of this war, and to that end, brushing aside all specious arguments in favor of wholesale slaughter of the human race, the wise heads of the nation are working steadily for peace.

It is difficult to see how a nation to which the teachings of Christ are something more than mere human dicta can fail to believe that peace is a desirable condition and that universal peace is a possibility.

Although many prominent persons who had identified themselves with peace principles have, temporarily at least, lost faith in the movement that has been directed toward that end, it is certain that the greater number of the people still believe in it, no matter how hopeless the cause may seem at present.

It is even proposed at the present juncture to form an International Peace League. That movement will doubtless be ridiculed and criticized on all hands; but it will grow in strength and when the war is over it will afford a point from which to work for that much-desired condition—universal peace. Such a condition will only be attained by earnest, persistent and courageous striving for that cause through good report and through ill report.

KOREA AND JAPAN

When a small nation lies between two greater countries, it is in the unenviable position of being between the upper and the nether millstone. Such was the position of Korea in 1905 when war broke out between Japan and Russia. Both of the larger countries coveted Korean territory and both were determined to obtain it. Russia made the first move. She sent her forerunners, in the guise of lumber merchants, to acquire concessions to the vast forests of Northern Korea. Naturally the Koreans protested. Then Japan protested. Russia persisted. Japan went to war and the battle of the Yalu was fought, as a result of which Korea fell into the hands of Japan.

Under Japanese rule Korea was drilled and drummed into a condition that was vastly disquieting to that easy-going "hermit nation." The Koreans squirmed and protested in vain. Then some enterprising natives conspired to kill the governor-general of Korea and were arrested and sentenced to death. Many of the conspirators were Christians, just as the assassins of Prince Ito and Mr. D. W. Stevens were Christians.

Japan was thorough in her condemnation of those parties, probably too thorough. The Japanese police carried on their espionage system unscrupulously and used the worst European methods in dealing with the alleged conspirators. Anyway, it appears to be proved that they swept into their police net a great many innocent persons.

This aroused foreign indignation and protest. Japan was moved to inquire sedulously into the matter, with the result that many of its own police were cashiered and many of the Koreans freed.

There remained six leaders of the so-called conspiracy and it is highly creditable to Japan that that government, discovering that there was not the shadow of a doubt of the innocence of the six condemned Koreans, has at last given them a free pardon. This act has already resulted in a great access of loyalty to Japan on the part of the Korean nation. The Koreans are now prepared to profit by the many advantages that Japanese rule affords them and though the country can never hope to regain its independence, it is probably better off under Japan than it was under its own government, and it is a thousand per cent better off than it would have been under Russian domination.

It takes an Oriental to understand and to rule an Oriental properly. In religion, in language and in thought there are many points in common between Japan and Korea. It may be expected now that a better understanding prevails between the rulers of Korea and the native population and that the country will begin to manifest signs of real national progress.

Dependability—versus—Ingenious Claims

MORE than 75 Concerns now manufacture Tires. We believe that everyone of these makes as good Tires as he knows how, at the lowest cost his Experience, Equipment and Methods make possible.

We believe that the average Tire Manufacturer is fair in his treatment of Adjustments, and that few deliberately misrepresent their product, either verbally or in print.

We believe that no Tire Manufacturer can afford to make statements in print about his product, which statements cannot be borne out by the performance of his Tires, in actual use.

We believe that the Tire has never been made which will not "Rim-Cut" if run "flat" for any considerable distance, and that many makers, including ourselves, have always produced Tires that would not otherwise "Rim-Cut."

We believe that many more Tires "Break-at-the-Head" than Cut at the Rim.

We believe that the Rubber Riveting System of attaching the Tread to the Carcass (by means of a loosely woven fabric, which permits the raw Rubber to permeate through its meshes and then Vulcanize to Carcass and Tread) prevents, to a large extent, Tread Separation.

We have long used this in "Goodrich" Tires, as a commonplace part of our Precision policy, but without laying any particular stress upon it.

We believe that the "Double-Cure" process, common with a great many Tire Manufacturers under different names, adds unnecessary expense to Tire Cost, which expense the Methods of the Goodrich Factory eliminate through its Precision "Single-Cure."

We believe that the cutting out of needless expenses like this (which our Precision Methods save) constitutes one of the strongest reasons why the largest Rubber Factory in the World (Ours) produces the greatest Mileage—per Dollar of Cost—in its Tires.

And—"The PROOF of the Tire is in the Mileage thereof."

We believe that the House which sticks to the Truth in its Advertising, is reasonably sure to stick to the Facts in its Selling. You have never yet found anything in Goodrich Advertising which was not in the Goods it advertised.

Hence you may pin your faith to the following statement: Goodrich Safety-Tread Tires give, with most UNIFORMITY, the greatest MILEAGE, and Resiliency, at the lowest Cost, per MILE, to Tire Users. Test them and see!

DEATH OF LEWIS M. GREGORY

Lewis M. Gregory, aged seventy years, native of New York, died at 1340 Thirtieth place, Los Angeles, June 8, 1915. Funeral services were held at the Los Angeles crematory June 9, 1915, at 11 a. m.

Mr. Gregory was formerly a resident of Tropic, having resided on the corner of Acacia and Glendale avenue for several years. He leaves a wife, a son and a daughter, Mrs. Harriet Stoddard, to mourn his loss. Funeral arrangements were in charge of the Scovern-Letton-Frey company.

PERSONALS

Mr. A. L. Weaver, 235 South Kenwood street, who has been in Bakersfield on business for several days, returns home tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Dornon of New Alexandria, Pa., are here to spend the week with their niece, Mrs. Duane Perley Snow of Lomita avenue.

Olin Dow, 223 East First street, arrived in the city the other day. He has been out at Victorville, where he has a homestead. He will return to Victorville to complete the proof of his claim.

About forty of the sanitarium nurses, doctors and attendants went to Loma Linda in machines Tuesday evening to be present at the exercises when nineteen nurses were graduated from the Loma Linda sanitarium.

Mrs. Bidwell of Plymouth, Ills., accompanied by her daughter, Lottie, are guests at the home of Mrs. D. J. Graham, 235 East Third street. They will remain here till Thursday, when they will return to Plymouth.

Mr. D. J. Graham, 235 East Third street, returned Thursday from a business trip to Bakersfield, which occupied him six days. Mr. Graham reports that the weather on the desert is extremely hot at present, Glendale forming a pleasant contrast.

Mrs. Hattie E. Gaylord, who has been attending the state W. C. T. U. convention in Pasadena since Monday, returned home today. For the sixth time Mrs. Gaylord was appointed state superintendent of fairs and open-air meetings. The cause of temperance in the state received a great impetus, Mrs. Gaylord says, when Mrs. Stella B. Irvine, who has been a national superintendent of Sunday school work, was made state president of the W. C. T. U.

FAMILY REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan Learned of Maryland avenue entertained Thursday evening at their attractive home in honor of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis B. Learned of Ashton, R. I., who are their guests. Twenty-one relatives were present and a most happy evening was enjoyed visiting with and welcoming the eastern cousins. Very dainty refreshments were served and the hours passed quickly in pleasant social intercourse.

TICKETS FOR LUNCHEON

Mrs. Luther Brown, chairman of the courtesy committee of the Tuesday Afternoon club, desires to announce that the tickets for the annual luncheon of the club may be secured from any of the following club members: Mrs. Blake Franklin, Mrs. O. W. Tarr, Mrs. A. L. Bryant, Mrs. Frank Grosvenor, Mrs. William Herman West, Mrs. H. H. Faries, Mrs. A. L. Weaver.

Tickets may also be secured from the Glendale book store and Mrs. C. H. Eudemiller's millinery store. Tickets must be secured before June 15. No plates can be reserved later than that date. Mrs. Brown will be out of town so all those in charge of tickets are requested to report to Mrs. Daniel Campbell not later than June 15.

NORTH GLENDALE

Miss Idelle Pittman of Redlands is spending a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Pittman of 1001 North Pacific avenue.

Mr. C. H. Cunningham of 1013 Fairview avenue made a business trip to Long Beach last Wednesday.

A mass meeting of the citizens of Casa Verdugo has been called for this evening in the Central avenue school building to discuss incorporation of the locality known as Casa Verdugo.

Mrs. B. J. Lyons of 1617 Ruth street, with her little son, Master John, are guests of her mother, Mrs. J. Mayer of Angeleno Heights in Los Angeles today.

Mr. G. C. Eddings of 1025 Fairview avenue entertained the children of his immediate neighborhood with a picnic at Verdugo park last Thursday. The day was spent rambling over the hills and a picnic dinner was enjoyed by the little folks. That they had a fine time was the report of all present.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Casa Verdugo M. E. church held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. C. H. Cunningham, 1013 Fairview avenue. Mrs. Mary F. Woodcock, corresponding secretary of the Pasadena district, was present and gave very interesting talks to the society. After the business session a musical program was enjoyed. Miss Ruth Wadsworth, who assisted Mrs. Cunningham in entertaining, rendered several piano solos, which were greatly appreciated and refreshments were served by the gracious hostess, after which the meeting adjourned for the summer months.

Sunday will be Children's Day at the Casa Verdugo M. E. church. Sunday school will be held at the usual hour, 9:45, and Children's Day exercises will be held at 11 o'clock instead of the regular morning service. A good program has been arranged. In the evening at 7:30 Dr. Soper, the pastor, will speak upon "Repentance, Confession and Forgiveness." Special music has been prepared for the evening service.

VALLEY VIEW

G. V. Reel and wife have moved from 1610 Vine to 1512 Broadway. A Mrs. Hodge has moved into the house at 1610 Vine.

People living in the vicinity of Columbus and Oak are considerably annoyed with a mudhole near the fire hydrant. A load of crushed rock or gravel would have fixed it long ago, but no one in authority seems to have thought of so simple a solution. An occasional green scum on the water adds to its attractiveness and health-giving properties.

Mrs. Harry Bruce of La Crescenta was down Tuesday to clean up her house at 1610 Vine street preparatory to renting it.

Miss Jennie Comstock of Tucson, Ariz., is visiting Mrs. Nat Kenyon and daughters of 1500 Oak for a few weeks. She is a daughter of Judge Comstock, one of the best-known citizens of Tucson. He is a Baptist minister as well as a judge and frequently preaches in the beautiful little church building he gave to the tubercular colony at Kentdale.

F. E. Gilman, wife and two children of 1637 Oak street started early Thursday morning in their Ford for San Francisco to spend ten days viewing the fair.

A boy riding a motorcycle turned in from Pacific avenue onto Broadway without slackening speed Thursday afternoon and dashed into an auto, causing the driver to swerve and strike the curb. Both machines were somewhat marked, but neither driver was much hurt.

War feeling seems to run high in little old Valley View, people of English and French descent scoring their innocent German neighbors and vice versa. Let us have peace. We are all Americans now.

THE COUNTRY BOY, THE CHORUS GIRL AND THE COUNTRY GIRL

The three main characters in the photo dramatization of Edgar Selwyn's "The Country Boy," presented under the direction of the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play company, and to be offered tonight at the Palace Grand, are the "country boy" himself, a chorus girl of the typical Broadway variety, who imposes upon his innocence in the ways of the world, and the country girl, who is faithful to her love and finds the charity in her heart to forgive the errors of the "boy." But these three characters only vaguely suggest the outline of a story which is far more than a love narrative—a genuine and serious study of the effect which city life must have on many poor and ambitious young fellows who leave secluded homes and join the crushing throngs of New York City.

A CORRECTION

In Thursday's issue of The News it was stated that L. V. Legrand, who had been a meat cutter for Fred Fish, was a member of the firm of Ed's Cash Market. This was a mistake, as it is Mrs. L. V. Legrand, mother of Ed Kinser, who is in partnership with Mr. Kinser in the meat market. We also call attention to the attractive Saturday special offered by this market in their ad on page four.

The boys and girls in our schools constitute the golden threads from which our national history is to be woven. Let us so train them that the fabric of our national life, of which they are to be the warp and woof, will be worthy of our highest ideals and aspirations, as a people.

TROPICO

Mrs. Frank I. Marsh's guests, Rev. and Mrs. George A. Osman, Mrs. Fanny Lawrence, Miss Carrie Griswold and Mr. E. L. Hewitt, all of Rutland, Vt., and Mrs. Cora Lawrence of Marlborough, N. Y., left for San Diego Thursday morning, where they will spend several days. Returning to Tropic they will spend several days here before leaving for San Francisco.

The Tropic school grounds association will give an excellent program at the Star theater Tuesday evening, June 15. The program consists of a solo by Mr. William Herman West, accompanied by Mrs. Edgar Fry; a photoplay, two-reel Biograph comedy drama, "Three Hats"; reading, Miss Mildred McKee; photoplay, one-reel Vitagraph comedy, "Man of Parts"; trio, Mr. H. R. Cloke, cornet, and Mr. A. Ward, violin; Mrs. Ethel Doyle at the piano; photoplay, one-reel Selig drama, "Man From Texas." The proceeds derived from this entertainment will be utilized on the Tropic playgrounds, which are proving such a source of happiness and pleasure to the children of this city.

The United States is glorifying its history by standing firmly and consistently for peace with all nations. This country is keeping at peace because it desires peace so ardently that it is scrupulous in doing that which promotes international concord.

The dreamer may have his place in the world, but it is the enterprising, industrious doer who makes the wheels of progress go round.

Following the line of least resistance does not develop character or get one very far on the highways of progress.

Contest Starts Monday, June 14th

Rules of the Contest:

Any person, man or woman, married or single, in Glendale, Tropic, Burbank, Eagle Rock and vicinity, is eligible to compete.

Any boy or girl is eligible to compete, providing the written consent of parents is furnished.

No employee in the office of the Evening News or relative of such employee can compete.

Voting ballots issued on subscription payments are good and can be voted or held until the last day of the campaign. They are not transferable.

Candidates may secure subscriptions and coupons ANYWHERE, regardless of the "district" in which they are entered.

All moneys paid to contestants on subscriptions must be sent at once to the Contest Department. Do not turn your subscriptions over to agents or collectors.

At the close of the contest the count of votes will be made by a committee of prominent citizens, who will award the prizes.

Contestants may nominate themselves, or be nominated by friends, without any cost.

The name of a person who places a candidate in nomination will not be divulged under any circumstances.

In the event of a tie, prizes of an equal value will be given.

The publisher of The News will decide all questions which may arise during the contest and his decision must be final. Contestants in entering this contest thereby agree to the rules of the contest and all rulings which the publisher and proprietor of the Evening News may make.

The Herald of Better Service

IN the arena of "Big Business" has appeared a new steel-brained champion, the Master-Model of the Royal—the machine with the rapid-fire action; the typewriter that fires letters as an automatic gun spits bullets!

Unless you are "Royalized," you are paying the price of the Royal without knowing it—besides that of your old-style machine—in the higher cost of your business letters.

Built for "Big Business" and its Great Army of Expert Operators

This master-machine does the work of several typewriters in one—it writes, types cards and bills! The one machine does it all—without any "special" attachments.

Get the Facts!

Send for the "Royal man" and ask for a DEMONSTRATION. Investigate the new machine that takes the "grind" out of type-writing. Or write us direct for our new brochure, "BETTER SERVICE," and book of facts on Touch Typing—with a handsome Color-Photograph of the new Royal Master-Model 10, sent free to typewriter users. "Write now—right now!"

MAKING CLOTHES FIREPROOF

Apologues of fire prevention a doctor in New York told how to make clothes fireproof. They should, he said, be dipped in a solution of ammonium phosphate, one pound to a gallon of cold water. Ammonium phosphate costs only 25 cents per pound, he said. The doctor took an eight inch strip of ordinary cotton gauze, equivalent to the material in the Indian and cowboy suits so popular among children, and ignited it. It was wholly consumed within four seconds. Then he took a similar strip, dipped it in the ammonium phosphate solution, dried it with an electric fan and held it in a flame for thirty seconds, but it did not burn.

"Families should get this solution; keep it in their houses and dip the whole family washing in it," said the doctor. "It would cost about fifteen cents a week for an entire family."—New York World.

The more the principles of social justice are applied practically, the less need is there of practical charity.

FORESTS THREATENED BY EUROPEAN MOTHS

Warnings against the European pine moth as a ravager of forests are being issued by the forestry bureau. This pest eats out the new buds in such a way that timber is permanently and seriously damaged. As the moths feed mostly on young trees between six and fifteen years old, it stunts their growth. Some trees are rendered unsightly, crippled and of no commercial value. Destruction of the infected buds is the only way found so far of combating the new pest. Insecticides will not reach it after it gets into winter quarters. Pruning of the infected buds and twigs is said to be the most successful ruse against the moth. A trace of pitch at the base of the hole where the larvae enters is the test to find the pine moth.

Mexico should have the social and economic reforms that would make conditions of living more tolerable for its peons and end the great unrest that has possessed the lower stratum of Mexican society.
